The Yealink WH62 is a new entry-level DECT wireless headset, with both WH62 Dual and WH62 Mono models. Work seamlessly with Unite and integrate natively with Yealink IP phones. Yealink Full-band Audio Technology and Acoustic Shield Technology allows you to talk and hear clearly during phone calls and enjoy a quality stereo sound experience. With simple on-ear control, comfort, and interruption free tech, the WH62 is a nice partner to have when communicating or collaborating.

Native Integration

No more EHS adapters needed, connect your desk phone directly with one USB cable and two Micro USB ports contained in the base, supporting connection to PC and IP phones simultaneously. Integrated deeply with Yealink IP Phones, you will feel the crystal call experience at the moment of wearing the headset.

Be Heard Crystal Clear

With Yealink Acoustic Shield Technology, the two Microphones built in the WH62 block background noise automatically while at the same time ensuring the participant's voice is heard clearly.

Interruption Free

Busylight is enabled in the WH62. When the light on the headset or BLT60 on the desk turns red, people around will know that you are on the phone. Busylight lets you focus on your conversation without the worry of being interrupted.
